Eisenhower Paved Way For Czechs Freeing Oatis

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower offered to negotiate the sanctions imposed on Czechoslovakia because of the imprisonment of William Oatis several weeks before the Czechs released him, the White House announced last night.

Czechoslovak President Antonin Zapotocky immediately notified Eisenhower that he was releasing Oatis.

The message by President Eisenhower to Zapotocky was handed to Czech Prime Minister Siroky by American Ambassador George Wadsworth on March 30, 1953. It read as follows:

"On the occasion of your assumption of the presidency of the Czechoslovak Republic I wish to avail myself of the opportunity to express the hope that you will give consideration to the release of William Oatis and thus remove one cause of friction between our two countries.

"If your government will release Mr. Oatis, removing the obstacles which his continued imprisonment places in the way of their solution, the United States government on its part is prepared to negotiate on the basis of full mutual understanding the issues arising from the arrest of Mr. Oatis and now outstanding between us."

New York, (AP)—Associated Press Correspondent William N. Oatis said last night he never spied for the American embassy while he was a newspaperman in Czechoslovakia.

He said in a statement that he checked news tips he received with the embassy on occasions and added:

"But at no time did I act as an espionage agent of the embassy in the sense that this term is understood in Western countries within the range of my experience."

Oatis' statement followed by two days his return to New York after 25 months in an Iron Curtain prison on conviction of espionage.

At a news conference, on his arrival here Monday, Oatis refused to say whether he served the U. S. government in any capacity while he was Associated Press correspondent in Prague.

A reporter told him that his noncommittal stand might prove embarrassing to him. Oatis conceded that, but insisted he would stand on the record of his Prague trial for the time being.

At the trial in 1951, he was convicted of espionage on charges of transmitting Czech economic, military and political data to a foreign government—presumably the U. S.

Oatis readily admitted he collected such data. But he said that was normal news procedure and would not be a crime in this country.

No Political Trends Noted

By The Associated Press

Organization-backed candidates won out in most Pennsylvania cities, counties, boroughs and townships in Tuesday's primary elections, but no clear cut trend was indicated for the 1954 gubernatorial race.

The big reason why analysts found so little in the way of augury was the feeble turnout of those with the right to vote. Those who did vote may add up to only a third of the total in last November's presidential election. This off-year election clearly didn't interest the people.

The forces of Republican City Chairman William J. Hamilton in Philadelphia made a clean sweep of the party nominations of row officers—coroner, city controller, treasurer and register of wills. Hamilton's group had the support of Gov. John S. Fine and was opposed by former Sheriff Austin Meehan, a follower of U. S. Sen. James H. Duff.

Republican forces opposing Gov. Fine won the Pittsburgh mayoralty contest, although O. P. Hanon, whom the governor picked to direct the primary campaign in Allegheny County, said that Fine at no time endorsed the losing candidate.

Red Battalion Hurdled Back

Seoul (AP)—Chinese Communists hurled a battalion-sized attack on the Western Front before daylight yesterday but were sent reeling back with prohibitive losses after the spearhead smashed into an Allied outpost near T-Bone Hill.

The U. S. Eighth Army said 245 Reds were killed or wounded out of 300 to 350 Chinese who battled their way through an artillery barrage into Outpost Yoke. The rest were ejected.

Allied troops attached to a U. S. division used knives, bayonets, hand grenades and clubbed rifles in the bitter 25-minute engagement.

Allies Step Up Trade With Chinese Reds

Washington (AP)—Senate investigators heard with indignation yesterday that Britain and other allies of the U. S. have "tremendously" stepped up trading with Red China. They called on President Eisenhower to state clearly this country's attitude toward such trade.

Chairman McCarthy (R-Wis.) and other members of the investigations subcommittee spoke out after hearing a committee staff member testify that:

At least one hundred British and 62 other Western-flag ships were trading with the Chinese-Communists in the first three months of this year—although many of the countries involved are fighting the Chinese Reds in Korea.

Two British-owned ships were used to transport Communist troops along the Chinese coast and later were hired to transport goods for this country's Mutual Security Administration.

Britain's exports to Red China jumped from $345,000 in the first two months of 1952 to $5,750,000 in the first two months of this year—an increase of about 1,700 per cent.

This testimony came from Assistant Counsel Robert F. Kennedy, a brother of Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass.). The witness said much of his information came from the U. S. Office of Naval Intelligence.

McCarthy and some of his fellow investigators hit the ceiling. The Wisconsin lawmaker said such "aid to Red China more than offsets any military contribution the British have made" in the Korean War.

"It is unheard of in the history of the world," McCarthy declared, "for a country to be transporting the troops that are killing its own soldiers."

Negro Family Evicted From Development

New York, (AP)—A city marshal yesterday sledge-hammered his way into a three-room apartment and evicted a Negro family barricaded inside with 50 sullen whites and Negroes. A crowd in the street outside booed and cheered.

Two white men who resisted were arrested and dragged from the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.'s huge Parkchester development in the Bronx—one of the largest in the world. It houses 40,000 people.

The break-in and eviction climaxed months of noisy, public demonstrations on behalf of the family of Michael Decatur, 35, a dining car waiter. They were the first Negroes to live in Parkchester.

There was an unconfirmed report that the Decatur's later took refuge in another Parkchester apartment, whose tenants are white. The company said any such move would be opposed.

Name Superintendent

Harrisburg, (AP)—Dr. Orris Weston Clinger, clinical director at Warren State Hospital, yesterday was named superintendent of the Danville State Hospital, effective June 15. He succeeds Dr. Vincent J. Castone who is entering the military service.

The company claimed the Decatur's took over the apartment in what it termed an illegal and underhanded manner from previous white tenants.

Polish Jet Pilot Follows Fellow Officer To Freedom, Dumps MIG-15 Into Allied Hands

Roenne, Bornholm, (AP)—A young Polish jet pilot, following a freedom trail blazed over the Baltic by a fellow officer March 5, dumped another Russian-built MIG-15 into Allied hands yesterday and asked for asylum.

Police quoted him as saying he broke away from a formation flight over Polish territory for his 60-mile dash from Communist rule.

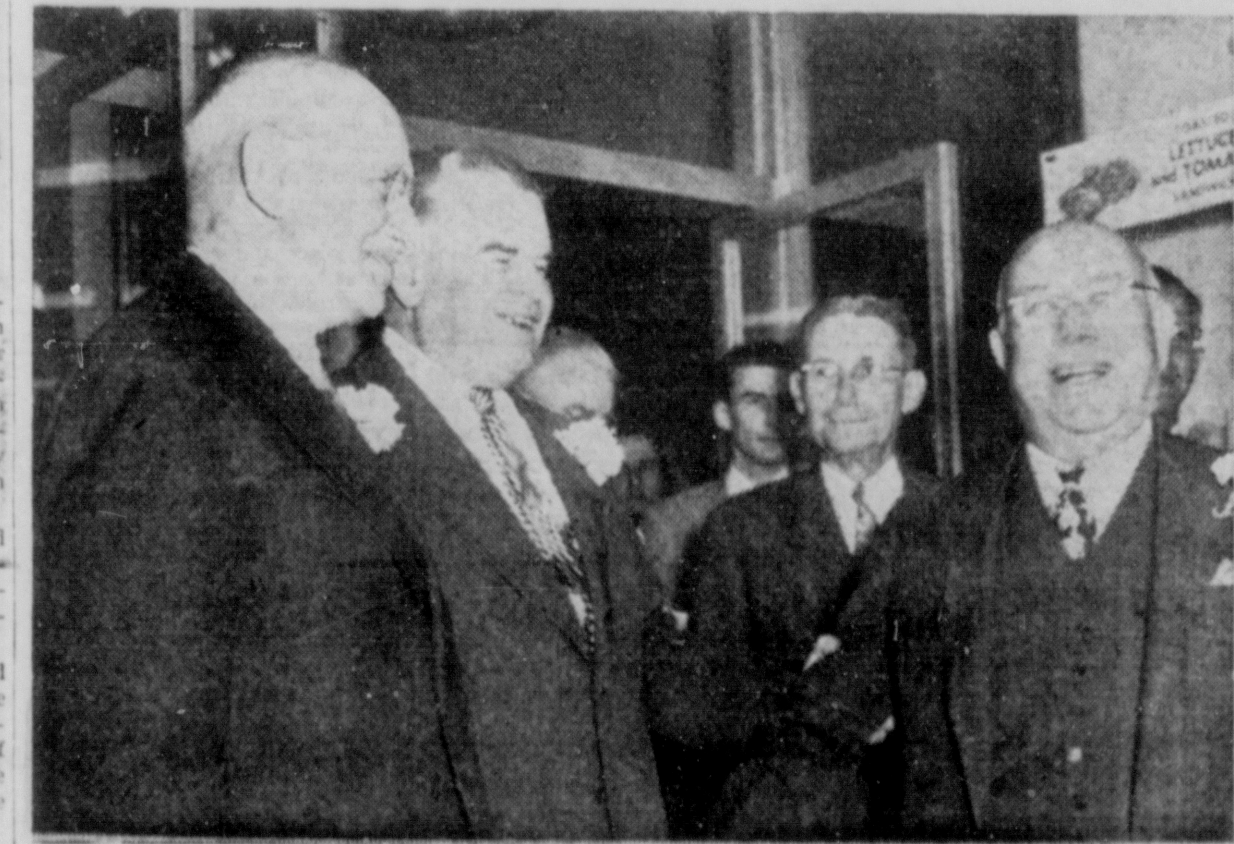

He crash-landed the craft on a military drilling field of this Danish island, climbed out smiling and identified himself as a friend of Lt. Franciszek Jarecki, whose flight from Poland to Bornholm 76 days ago gave Western technicians their first chance to inspect an undamaged MIG—the fastest fighter in the Communist world.

There was damage this time. The newcomer, a 22-year-old lieutenant whom police declined to name, passed up the dangerously short runways of Roenne Airport, on which Jarecki landed, in favor of the drilling ground north of town.

The under carriage crumpled and a wing snapped when he slashed into a thicket after hopping electric wires and rocking perilously across knolls and gulleys at a speed of 150 to 175 miles an hour.

But the engine and interior were undamaged.

The pilot was reported to have told Danish police that his MIG was a newer type than Jarecki's. A high military source said, however, it did not look like a prize catch. The general lines appeared the same. Top Danish jet experts worked last night under a tarpaulin covering the plane to discover whether it con-

Ag Appropriation Voted; Soil Conservation Monies Boosted Above Ike's Figure

Washington, (AP)—The House jolted the Eisenhower administration's economy drive yesterday by approving 55 million dollars more for 1954 soil conservation payments to farmers than the President had requested.

Then it passed and sent to the Senate a $712,747,828 Agriculture Department money bill for the fiscal year starting July 1, 1953.

On other money bills so far, the House has managed to cut funds even below Eisenhower's own budget-cutting figures, but members failed to hold the line when the farm bill came along.

The vote came after Rep. Burdick (R-ND) told Republicans they would "legislate" themselves out of the House if they "opposed soil conservation."

However, more Democrats than Republicans voted for the increase. Voting for the higher figure were 54 Republicans, 146 Democrats and one Independent. Voting for the cut were 152 Republicans and 44 Democrats.

Meantime the Senate was passing its first regular money bill for the new year, to provide about 446 millions to run 22 independent government agencies for the coming fiscal year. The Senate cut six million dollars off the total voted by the House.

The figure finally agreed upon by the Senate was 547 millions less than the same departments were voted last year.

The House increase in soil conservation payments means a boost of that much in next year's appropriations bill, under which actual payments will be made. It did not add to the $712,747,828 in new funds for the department during the coming fiscal year.

The total of new funds voted in the farm bill is $37,104,514 less than Truman had requested, and $8,942,086 more than Eisenhower had sought.

$12,500-A-Year Tax Collector's Job Decided

Johnstown, (AP)—How would you like to make close to $12,500 a year for little more than one-half hour's work?

Joseph Tomaskovich, a school director, woke up yesterday with that prospect in sight for the next four years. Tomaskovich won the Democratic and Republican nomination as tax collector for nearby Franklin borough's 1,830 residents.

The borough's property is assessed at 14.5 million dollars 97 per cent of it belonging to Bethlehem Steel Co. It takes only one-half hour to pick up the company's tax check and take it to the bank.

The collector gets 5 per cent of the county tax and 2 per cent of borough and school district taxes.

Flood Perils Louisiana City

By The Associated Press

Rampaging flood waters bore down on the Louisiana port city of Lake Charles yesterday as two Gulf Coast states fought off the effects of five days of rain.

Elsewhere in Louisiana, creeks and rivers swollen by nearly a foot of rain began receding but the Weather Bureau said Lake Charles could still expect a bigger flood "than anything that ever happened" there before.

The Calcasieu River will reach the nine foot stage this morning, the Weather Bureau forecast.

In Texas, the Sabine River was a wide, roaring lake for its full 375 miles.

Milk Control Ripper Beaten

Harrisburg, (AP)—The Senate last night squelched a plan to abolish the State Milk Control Commission.

The vote was 6-31 on a Chesterman Committee proposal to wipe out the three-man agency and transfer its duties to a bureau in the Agriculture Department at an estimated savings of $75,000 a biennium.

Farm organizations generally opposed the plan at a Senate Rules Committee hearing last month as did Agriculture Secretary Miles Hest.

Action on the Chesterman report shoved the impasse on taxes into the background as the lawmakers reconvened in mid-week after a recess for the primary election Tuesday.

House and Senate Republican leaders conferred all day without reaching any conclusions on a substitute tax program for the discarded 1 per cent sales tax proposal.

Ford Lays Off 85,000

Detroit, (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. announced late yesterday it is laying off 85,000 employees throughout the nation because of a strike at its Canton, Ohio, plant.

Most of the employees will be laid off during the next five days. The company said "the enforced layoff" got under way late yesterday at the big Rouge plant here.

In a statement, Ford said the strike at Canton had cut off forgings and parts used in Ford cars and trucks and Mercury cars. The CIO United Auto Workers called the strike nearly five weeks ago in a dispute over job rates, the company said.

The AFL council's statement agreed with Eisenhower that tax cuts must wait, but it said postponing the cuts only six months is probably not long enough.

Siamese Twins Die 33 Hours Following Birth

Inverness, Nova Scotia (AP)—The Siamese twin boys born here Tuesday died last night, about 33 hours after birth. Their death came after hospital officials said they had spent a quiet day and were apparently in good health.

The boys, named Frank and Edward earlier yesterday, were born to Mr. and Mrs. Max Wyrwas. The 19-year-old mother was reported in good condition.

The twins were joined face-to-face at the upper part of the normal breast bone.

Opponents Of Extension Weakening

Washington (AP)—Eisenhower forces took a long stride forward yesterday in their battle for a six-month extension of the excess profits tax.

Chairman Reed (R-NY) of the powerful House Ways and Means Committee agreed to hold hearings on President Eisenhower's proposal to keep the tax on the books for another six months. It is scheduled to die June 30 unless extended by Congress.

While Reed stood his ground in staunch opposition to the plan, other members of the committee were reported weakening in their opposition. Earlier this year the 15 GOP members of the committee had voted unanimously against an extension of the tax.

Reed called the plan "unwise" and said in a statement:

"We must keep faith with the people . . . I do not believe we should proceed to impose oppressive taxes when our party has pledged itself to reduce them."

The decision to begin hearings June 1 came after House Speaker Martin, carrying the ball for the Eisenhower tax program, met for two hours with the 15 GOP members of the committee, which is charged with starting all tax legislation through Congress.

Martin himself was cautious in discussing the tax matter with newsmen after the meeting. He said only that he was "prayerfully hopeful" the committee would agree to send the bill to the floor and predicted the tax extender would be voted "if it comes out of the committee."

One high-ranking Republican congressman who asked not to be identified by name predicted flatly the proposal will be approved with the help of Democratic votes. Others were more cautious, but agreed that inroads had been made in the once-solid GOP front on the committee.

Before meeting with Martin, the Republican committeemen held a private session and it was reported a majority stood firm against the extension, but that some—no one said how many—were wavering.

Meanwhile Eisenhower formally submitted to Congress a six-point tax program which included a plea to keep the excess profits tax on the books for six months beyond its June expiration date.

The President said he regretted the need to ask for such legislation "because I share the widespread feeling that our taxes are generally too high and that some of our tax laws are inherently defective."

"But facts are facts," Eisenhower said, "and I propose that we face them."

Reed said that after the meeting his opposition to extension of the excess profits tax had been changed "not a particle."

Under normal procedure, a tax bill would have to be reported out by the ways and means committee before the House could vote on it. But there are a number of extra-ordinarily parliamentary maneuvers which could be used to force the bill to the floor and bypass the committee.

Reed has indicated he probably would retaliate on other matters if such maneuvers are put into play.

Reed said the excess profits tax, which exacts a levy on corporation profits deemed "unusually" high, fosters monopoly, creates competitive disadvantages encourages inefficiency and promotes waste.

In his message to Congress, Eisenhower made it clear he doesn't like the tax any more than Reed does. The levy, he said, "actually penalizes thrift and efficiency and hampers business expansion."

But, the President said, extending the tax "is preferable to the increased deficit caused by its immediate expiration or to any short-term substitute tax."

Eisenhower said, too, that he believes "a reduction in individual taxes must come first, for the benefit of the entire economy." He called for a reduction in personal income taxes of about 10 per cent on Jan. 1.

He laid the blame for the situation at the doorstep of the Truman administration, stating he "inherited a critically unsound state of financial affairs."

"I want to see a tax reduction carried out," Eisenhower said, "but I want even more to stop the deterioration of the currency which has been going on for so many years under the unsound fiscal and monetary policies of the past administration."

Martin said after his meeting with Reed and the other Republicans on the ways and means committee that he was convinced some members "had not yet made up their minds."

Clearview School Crowns May Queen At Ceremonies

Students of Clearview Elementary School, N. Fifth St., joined hands yesterday afternoon to present their May Day program which culminated with the crowning of Donna Woolever as May Queen.

Raymond Harding, school principal, presided for the coronation as the program got under way.

Members of the queen's court included Emma Coslar, Lorraine Edinger, Bonnie Yost, Arlene Evans, Connie Repsher and Arlene Weber, ladies-in-waiting; Patsy Weidman and Harriet Smith, train bearers; Mary Jane Serfass and Rita Woolever, flower girls; Gary Weidman, crown bearer and Jeanette Fish, Elizabeth Lesoine, Betty Lou Sebring, Sandra Wakefield, Nancy Walton, Elfrida Ruth, Barbara Phillips, Linda Turr, Avis Gunn, Judy Darr, Junetta Hay and Sharron Fabel were Garland girls.

Program consisted of dances, games and novelty acts performed by pupils of all six grades, and climaxed with the May pole dance.

Miss Katherine Pontius, supervisor of physical education at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College directed the program, assisted by Dolores C. Klinger and Gerald L. Anderson, student teachers.

Elks To Discuss Anniversary Plans

Plans for the anniversary of East Stroudsburg Lodge of Elks, A. A. Lauffer, exalted ruler, will be announced at the meeting tonight at 8:30 at the home on Washington St.

There is other important business on the agenda, the officers said. Two special films having to do with trout fishing in Canada and flying with wild geese to winter quarters in Mexico will be shown after the business session.

Vets Launch Poppy Sale Here Today

The annual three-day poppy sale is scheduled to begin at 3 a.m. today with proceeds earmarked for welfare and service to disabled veterans, their widows and orphans.

Sponsored by the veterans organizations of Monroe County, the sale has been proclaimed by burgesses of all boroughs.

Youngsters selling poppies will vie for the honor of distributing flower petals into Brodheads Creek as one of the features of the Memorial Day parade which begins in Stroudsburg and ends in East Stroudsburg.

A boy from the Veterans of Foreign Wars and girl from the American Legion will be named after the sale Saturday, leaders of both posts said last night.

Shiffer Funeral Rites Arranged

Funeral services for Mary E. Shiffer, 75, who died Monday in Allentown Hospital, will be held Friday at 2 p.m. in Pilgrim Holiness Church.

Rev. Edward Houston will officiate. Interment will be made in the Stroudsburg Cemetery. Daniel G. Warner is in charge of services.

Scout Board Of Review Slated Friday

Board of Review, Pocono District Boy Scouts of America, will meet Friday at 4 p.m. in the Ramsey School office, Stroudsburg.

Scouts who wish advancement are asked to appear at the school at that time, according to Roger Dunning.

The meeting was originally scheduled for June 5.

Mr. Moody's Moody Project

Proposal of a new $3,000,000 building to house the state bureau of motor vehicles and the highway safety organization is recommended in a bill introduced by Rep. John H. Moody, of Dauphin County, who contends that there is a great need for adequate housing of those units of the Department of Revenue.

We are willing to lay a small wager that Mr. Moody was one of those who would have socked the people of Pennsylvania with a sales tax. One who would slap on a flat income tax or harass our mercantile establishments with a mercantile tax which would just about wipe out their profits.

Interesting fellow this Mr. Moody. Sits right under the nose of the defeat of a sales tax—a battle in which the people of Pennsylvania told legislators they wanted none of any such taxes—only economy, and he recommends the state spend another $3 millions on a building.

Wouldn't be so bad, but he adds insult to injury and proposes it be spent for a Revenue building.

We can figure only one angle to his proposal—this boy really wants to tax us to death and for that reason wants a new building big enough to hold it.

Chlorophyll isn't what it was cracked up to be, says Dr. Morris Fishbein, medical editor. Research men have pitted it against all sorts of odors, and the odors have triumphed, he declares.

Well, chlorophyll still is going strong, and may ultimately triumph over Dr. Fishbein and the keen-scented research men. But this attack on one of our national enthusiasms brings to mind another one that we took to our breasts at about the same time...

Did You Say Voters?

How do you feel about election today? What election? Why the one you missed yesterday? You who did not vote have no right to any feelings. If somebody got a nomination by default and you'd like to scream about it—don't—you look foolish enough right now.

All you've done is hand the political bosses another assurance that they can do anything they please because "the voters don't pay any attention anyway."

And that's something of a miserable joke! Voters—there just weren't any on Tuesday to amount to anything.

A FAIRY TALE

The fairy godmother has been ousted from the Cinderella fable by the Communists of East Germany, and the Prince has been made a revolutionist.

Once upon a time there was a young woman who lived with two stepisters. She was not beautiful but this did not matter because she kept a statue of Lenin in her bedroom, read Marx often, and while she had taken the Stalin portrait off the wall, she hadn't yet thrown it away. Her stepisters were the true bourgeois type. No good. They made Cinderella do all the housework. But Cinderella carried a party card, thought only of extending the Russian sphere of influence, and bided her time.

CHAPTER II

One night a decadent king gave a great ball. Like all Kings he was so idiotic he liked people to have fun. Cinderella's stepisters made immediate plans to attend, but ordered her to stay home and wash the dishes. Cinderella was toiling away at the dirty work when a voice said, "I am the Fairy Godmother. You wish to go to the king's great ball."

"That's what you think!" said Cinderella, taking one look at the Fairy Godmother and feeling a deep surge of Marxist scorn.

"You are a lovely young girl and of course your desire is to dance with a real live Prince," said the F. G.

"Have you finished?" asked Cinderella. "Yes," said the F. G. Whereupon Cinderella whipped out a manuscript a foot thick and began reading a statement of her position on music, dancing, princes and all such nonsense fostered by the Anglo-American bloc.

CHAPTER III

She was on the fifth page of her blistering exhortation of the Fairy Godmother as a mediator, a sort of vicious interests, etc., before noticing that the Godmother had fallen asleep. This deeply offended Cinderella, since she had only been speaking 24 hours. Now it seems that at the king's ball, a ridiculous outing of privileged people, there was a young prince who had long ago been sickened by music and dancing. And besides he hated violinists. So he left the nonsensical affair early, leaving word that he had found the slipper of a beautiful girl and was determined to locate her.

This was in accordance with secret instructions in invisible ink. He knew Cinderella all right. But only at "No. 1886" or "Anna X."

"To Cinderella, the prince was 'Peters.' They had met many times when sillier people were attending fancy balls."

"Stop, look and listen."

"Give some of that steak to the dog."

"Save your money and you won't have to worry in your later years."

U.S. Weathermen Admit Inaccuracy Of Forecast

Washington—You are absolutely right about those things you said regarding the inaccuracy of the weatherman.

It's now official!

There has been no real improvement in weather forecasting in 10 years.

Authority for that is "Mr. Weatherman" himself.

Dr. Francis Reichelderfer, chief of the U. S. Weather Bureau, made this frank admission during a private conference with the Senate Appropriations Committee.

He pleaded with the Committee to restore a big cut in his budget by the House, claiming better predicting on tornados, hurricanes and floods. But under questioning, Reichelderfer conceded little progress has been made in improving general weather forecasting.

On that great problem his Bureau, in effect, is still in the quandary so aptly described by Mark Twain in his famous quip, "Everybody talks about the weather, but no one does anything about it."

Senator Homer Ferguson (R., Mich.) raised the accuracy question by asking bluntly, "How much more accurate are you now than, say, five years ago?"

"Not much," admitted Reichelderfer. "At the most, it's a matter of perhaps one or two percent. But we are much more accurate in predicting specific things like tornados, hurricanes, cloud ceilings, rainfall and floods. We are doing a lot better on that. But on straight rain and fair forecasts, such as you read in your daily papers, there has been no marked improvement in the last ten years. We are working on this matter all the time, but improvement is very slow."

Senator Styles Bridges (R., N. H.) brought up a subject that has been widely debated for a long time.

"What about the accuracy of weather predictions in former almanacs?" asked Bridges. "When I was a boy, these almanacs were very common. How did they arrive at their forecasts and what do you professional weathermen think of them?"

"They have a certain degree of accuracy," replied Reichelderfer. "They can't help it, in a way. They are bound to hit it right once in a while on a sheer ratio basis. Almanac makers use different methods for their predicting. We know how one of them made his for a whole year in advance."

"He came to see us and asked for longrange forecasts. We explained that if the Bureau had anything like that they would have them published long ago. The longest forecasting we can do is 30 days. But he insisted he had to have forecasts for a year. Dr. Kincer, our climatologist, asked why he was making this demand when he had never done it before."

"The almanac man replied, 'This is the first time I've had to get up these forecasts. The man who used to do it left us and we don't know how he put them together. I've got to figure out some way or I'll be fired.'"

"Dr. Kincer explained the Bureau could not get up longrange forecasts of that kind, but pointed out one helpful suggestion. This is the fact that in most regions the average is two clear days to one day of rain in a year."

"You would have a hard time convincing a lot of people of that right now," exclaimed Senator Ferguson. As you know, it's been raining in Washington every day for more than a week."

"That's right," said Reichelderfer, "but at the same time many people are firm believers in the accuracy of former almanacs. In some sections, folks swear by them."

"What did that almanac maker who came to see you finally do?" asked Senator Bridges. "Did he follow the advice you gave him?"

"Yes, he did," chuckled Reichelderfer. "He made out 365 slips, one for each day of the year, and tagged them rain or fair in the two-to-one ratio explained by Dr. Kincer. Then he put the slips in a hat and drew them out one at a time. The first one was put down as the weather for January 1, and so on throughout the year. Day by day. That's the way he got up the weather forecasts for that almanac. It's a true story; I'm not exaggerating one bit."

Try and Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

Stoddard King, who wrote the lyrics of "A Long, Long Trail," won the heart of every columnist and radio comedian in America with this verse in a poem called "An Antiquarian Dissent":

The good, new jokes come bravely out. They wander timidly about. And go upon the stage. But even though we hear them experts and with zest, We do not like our jokes too young— The bad old jokes are best.

Statesmen Of Western World Are Looking For Imitation Tito In Red Countries

The Curse of Titoism

Since the Yugoslav Communist, Tito, broke with Stalin, some of the statesmen of the Western world, including not a few in our own State Department, have been seeking an imitation Tito in each of the Communist countries. Thus far, they have failed to find any. Tito is apparently a special case among Communists. Nationalistic Communists, such as Dimitroff in Bulgaria or Earl Browder in the United States, were eliminated for their divergencies.

Tito is as much a Marxist today as he was when, as a member of the Comintern, he was chosen to head Stalin's forces in Yugoslavia. He has never renounced Marxism. He has only established National Communism in his own country, rejecting a subordinate position to Stalin in the leadership of the world revolution. Why Titoism is superior to Stalinism is not understandable on any ideological basis; it is only understandable in the outright opportunism which has been characteristic of the British foreign policy from Chamberlain's appeasement of Hitler at Munich to Churchill's appeasement of Mao Tse-tung in China.

Our State Department, under Dean Acheson, generally was a mirror of British policy. Therefore, while Acheson paid lip service to anti-Communism in China, he served the cause of British trade too ardently to hold an independent view for the United States. John Foster Dulles, who has tried to build an American foreign policy, has encountered so much opposition within our own government that his earlier pronouncements, as well as those of President Eisenhower, have melted away as though in thin air.

This country is now back to the opportunism of looking for Titos and bribing them to serve our temporary purposes. Yet, the Republicans always denounced the expedients of overly-clever men who lived by tricks rather than by principles of action. They are the authors of most of our present misfortunes.

One of the Titos that these statesmen, British and American, would manufacture is Mao Tse-tung, the current Kremlin satrap in China. Following the advice of Nehru of India is always dangerous because Nehru is a broker whose profits can only come from trouble among the Western countries. When he advises that the United States recognize Mao Tse-tung, he is tricking us into a dangerous situation. His motive is to achieve the leadership of Asia for India—a laudable motive for his country but not in our interest.

Senator William Knowland, who is undoubtedly the best-informed member of the Senate on Asiatic questions, recently said in a speech:

"While I recognize there is room for an honest difference of opinion, it is my own belief that the acceptance of the Communist proposal to have prisoners of war turned over to a commission representing India, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Sweden, and Switzerland is a great mistake, and one that may be hard to justify in the years to come.

"All five of these nations have recognized Communist China.

"Two of these nations, Poland and Czechoslovakia, are Communist satellites, and consistently follow Soviet policy.

"The fifth nation, India, has more than 80 per cent of the time, since the Korean War broke out, voted with the Communist side or abstained."

What India wants the United States to do is to accept willingly the Russian terms as presented at Pannunjom. This will seal our defeat in the Korean War and will please India no end because of the Indians' intense hatred for the Anglo-Saxon countries. The defeat of the United States would be a victory not only for Mao but for Nehru as well.

Such a concession on our part, such an appeasement, will not make a Tito out of Mao Tse-tung. He has been in the International Communist Movement since about 1929 when he was a student at the Peking National University. He has been thoroughly trained in Kremlin thinking and in Kremlin techniques. It would take an intellectual and spiritual catalyst for Mao Tse-tung to break with his entire life as an adult. Nothing in the known facts of the Chinese situation would indicate that such a catalyst has occurred or is in the offing.

To substitute the imagined for the known; to accept the hope for the reality; to reject available data for inspired improvisations is not statesmanship; it is amateurs playing with the lives of citizens.

Employment Service Reports Job Openings For 400 Persons

300 Positions Available In Resort Field

Job openings in the Pocono Mountains region for 400 workers were disclosed yesterday by Carl Denz, acting manager of the Pennsylvania State Employment Service office, East Stroudsburg.

Denz said 300 positions are available in the hotel and resort category; 75 in the industrial field and the remaining 25 in retail and wholesale branches.

The immediate need to fill positions was emphasized by Denz who said inexperienced help is direly needed for a majority of the available positions.

The Memorial Day opening of most resort establishments was given as the reason for the unusual demand in that field. Denz said while most of the positions are of a seasonal nature, many are permanent, with requests having been filed by hotels operating on a year-round basis.

Breakdown in the industrial openings includes 30 percent in construction, 40 percent skilled workers and the balance in unskilled trades.

Denz defined the construction field openings as laborers, ground keepers and handymen. The openings do not include the Signal Corps depot at Tobyhanna where help is hired through on-the-job unions.

Skilled workers needed include auto mechanics, machinists, tool and dye makers, core makers, tile, rug and linoleum layers, nurses and draftsman.

In the unskilled line, where inexperienced help will be employed, jobs are ready for tractor-trailer drivers and helpers, sewing machine operators and many miscellaneous groups.

Availabilities in the resort and hotel trading field include waitresses, cooks (both male and female), chambermaids, bus boys, dishwashers, pastry cooks, social directors, room clerks, typists, stock clerks, groundmen, porters, bartenders, housekeepers, hostesses, chauffeurs and gatemen.

In the retail and wholesale business, help is being sought for sales clerks, routemen, service station attendants, stock clerks, auto mechanic helpers and weigh masters. Denz said his office scans its register daily in search of local people to fill job vacancies, and when the rolls here are exhausted, a call is sent to some 20 cooperating PSES offices in the area for the particular type of workers needed.

Details on particular jobs may be secured from the PSES office in East Stroudsburg.

Mrs. Oxford Found Dead At Bangor

Mrs. Annie E. Oxford, 73, was found dead in her Bangor RD 1 home yesterday at noon.

Clayton R. Huston, deputy Northampton County coroner, Portland, issued a certificate of death by strangulation. He said that Mrs. Oxford had been despondent since the death four weeks ago of her husband, Edward.

Mrs. Oxford visited with a daughter-in-law, Mrs. William Oxford, adjoining her home, until 9:30 a. m.

The time of death was placed between 10 a. m. and noon.

The body was found on the attic steps by her daughter-in-law. A rope had been tied to an attic rafter.

Dr. Floyd Hess, Bangor, was summoned. He pronounced Mrs. Oxford dead.

She was the daughter of the late W. Frank and Rosa Weidlich Repsher and was born in Washington Township; lived in that vicinity her entire life.

She was a member of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, Bangor. Surviving are her son, William, Bangor RD 1; two daughters, Mrs. Clarence Kilmon, Charlotte, N. C., and Mrs. Clara Willis, Bangor RD 1; five grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. James Kellow, Bangor; one brother, Peter Repsher, Moorestown, Pa.

Private funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at Hough funeral home. Rev. J. Frederick Stoltz will officiate. Interment will be in the family plot, St. John's Cemetery, Bangor.

Large Crowds Throng New Newberry Store

It was "just like New York" in Stroudsburg yesterday as the Pocono Mountains populace converged on the borough to help J. J. Newberry celebrate his day -- the grand reopening of his number one store at Sixth and Main Streets.

A host of Newberry officials, augmented by local businessmen and other prominent retail dealers, comprised the nucleus of the audience who stood 20 deep on Main and Sixth Streets to await the official word to enter the modern store.

Dale H. Larn, president of Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce lauded the new store in his welcome address after being introduced by Joe Webster, of Radio Station WVPO.

The store's founder who embarked on his career in a small Main St. store here, expressed his "dream" in a five-minute address, commenting on the Pocono regions and "apologizing" to his customers "for making you wait so long for this store."

Sebastian S. Kresge, a Mountaintown resident and founder of the nation-wide Kresge Stores, praised Newberry and his memorial store, then chided the founder with the remark, "I'm here to show you how to open a store."

Both men heaped honors on another merchandiser, A. B. Wyckoff, also a guest for the occasion, for establishing "the friendly store" here. Views expressed by the speakers revolved around their early life. Kresge drew laughter with his recollection of having been paid $22 a month as a teacher, in the West End of the county many years ago, then commented, "I believe Mr. Newberry might take in that much in his store here today."

Donald Hayes, new store manager, was introduced by Mr. Newberry. He presented Hal Harris, Stroudsburg chief Burgess who commented on the new building and the chain's founder.

With six original Newberry employees who joined the store Dec. 16, 1911 holding the ribbon, Burgess Harris used gold scissors to complete the ceremonies and officially open the store.

Inside the building customers were treated to their first full-view of the ultra-modern junior department store and were recipients of orchids and colored Newberry postal cards distributed by young girls in evening gowns.

Fully trained sales girls, 150 of them, greeted shoppers from behind the white birch counters while Newberry Company officials spent the entire day touring both floors renewing acquaintances and making new ones. Large crowds thronged the modern, well-stocked store throughout the day.

Newberry had a field day in remembering friends he left here in starting his 480 stores, and was outwardly overjoyed at the reception on returning. The six original employees who aided the grand opening are Mrs. William E. Robinson, Mrs. Herbert Bonser, Mrs. Nathan Kishbaugh, Mrs. Walter F. Brown and Mrs. Alice Van Why, all of the Stroudsburgs, and Mrs. G. Mitchell, of Tony's River, N. J.

Washington, AP — The position of the Treasury May 18: Net budget receipts, $185,726,205.75; Budget expenditures, $203,075,757.60; Cash balance, $3,590,430,385.43; Total debt, $265,521,831,474.46; Increase over previous day, $113,617,196.19.

Two Sticker Candidates Nominated

Two Monroe Countians of comparatively recent residence, without previous political aspiration here, stepped out Tuesday, grabbed the political bull by the tail and tossed for very solid nominations for county offices.

One of these was Andrew L. McGinley, a retired New York City mounted policeman, who has lived for some time in Mount Pocono.

Mr. McGinley, using the write-in method, won one of the Republican nominations for jury commissioner. Unofficial write-in reports to the county commissioners' office give Mr. McGinley 80 votes.

When sealed returns are opened for the official count, this total is expected to be increased.

Mr. McGinley is a member and on the board of directors of the Mount Pocono Rotary Club. Mrs. McGinley is a member and past president of the Pocono Mountains Council of Republican Women.

Mr. McGinley will be teamed with Clair Larn, Stroudsburg incumbent at the fall general election. Mr. Larn received 1,444 votes. His was the only name on the ballot.

They will be opposed by Homer L. Singer, Jackson Township, 1,341 votes, and Clinton E. Larn, Stroud Township incumbent, who was given 1,557 votes.

Dr. John A. Sweeney Jr., 17 S. Sixth St., Stroudsburg, a chiropractor, came up with the Democratic nomination for county coroner, using the write-in method.

Dr. Sweeney, without moving from his office and work, captured sufficient votes through contacts with patients to rack up the Democratic nomination.

Since some of his write-in votes were apparently unreported on open returns, the official count is expected to show he has a substantial number for the nomination.

Dr. Sweeney will be opposed at the general election by Dr. Charles Rushmore, East Stroudsburg physician, who was unopposed.

Edwin Giffels Sr., Stroudsburg, unopposed for the Democratic nomination for county treasurer, rolled up a complimentary vote totaling 1,677 on the basis of unofficial returns.

Mass Of Write-In Votes Complicates Tabulation Of Primary Election Returns

Monroe County commissioners, confronted with a mass of write-in votes—some of them not listed on open returns—will start tomorrow to compile an official count of the very light vote cast at the Tuesday municipal primary.

Fact that election boards in some districts did not list write-in votes on open returns was first disclosed to commissioners' office yesterday by candidates who gave every evidence they had won both party nominations for an office.

Yet a check of open returns failed to show any write-in votes tabulated. In one instance no write-in votes were listed on open returns for any office, but more than one office was affected by write-ins.

Officials said there was apparently some confusion and misunderstanding among some members of election boards—all of which, they emphasized, will be straightened out when sealed returns are opened for the official canvass.

Perforations on machine ballots in the sealed returns will immediately show the write-in votes.

For instance, a Republican write-in will show up as "Zero" or a "One" perforation.

In the case of a Democratic write-in, it shows up positively as such with seven perforations.

Every vote cast will therefore be officially determined and assigned to its proper place when the sealed returns are opened.

There were many instances where both parties had no candidate on the ballot. Here again the write-ins will be determined accurately and assigned.

In many instances it is expected that candidates of a party who sought nomination without the name of a member of the opposing party on the ballot, will find he has a General Election opponent due to a write-in.

There was every indication that commissioners will start the canvass around noon today, the time prescribed by law, but will not work on through the night. They may or may not work Saturday. In any event it will be early next week before the whole operation is completed and totals applied, an official said yesterday.

Mrs. Davis Appointed To DPA Board

Gov. John S. Fine yesterday appointed Mrs. Jeannette K. Davis, East Stroudsburg, to the Monroe County Board of Public Assistance, subject to Senate confirmation.

Mrs. Davis, wife of Judge Fred W. Davis, will fill one of two vacancies on the seven-member board.

Two of the members, Mrs. Thomas Shoemith, Stroudsburg, and Mrs. Lloyd Altomose, Broadheadville, are retiring from the board after having served the legal limit, which is two four-year terms.

The other vacancy is expected to be filled prior to May 28, date of a six-county regional meeting of board members at Scranton when state public assistance officers will explain the relief program and regulations.

C. R. Altomose, Monroe County executive director, pointed out that assistance board members serve without pay.

Joint Board Adopts New School Budget

Newfoundland — A budget for the 1953-54 school year, calling for expenditures of $105,301, was adopted by the joint board of education of the Greene-Dreher-Sterling school at its monthly meeting this week.

Member districts will share $100,239 of this figure as follows: Greene Township—35.1% or $35,183.89; Dreher Township—33.7% or $33,780.51; Sterling Township—31.2% or $31,274.57. Costs are divided on a pro-rata basis based on enrollment of students from the three districts.

Remainder of the estimated cost will be made up by a state appropriation for vocational agriculture and home economics amounting to $1,980 and from tuition payments from other districts amounting to $3,582.

The Dreher Township board was forced to raise its school tax levy from 28 to 30 mills in order to meet the increased expenditures. Greene Township will continue its levy of 23 mills while Sterling remains at the legal limit of 35 mills.

The joint board also voted to apply for state appropriation for a summer recreational program to be carried out under the State extension education program. Application will also be made to continue the summer music program under the same provisions.

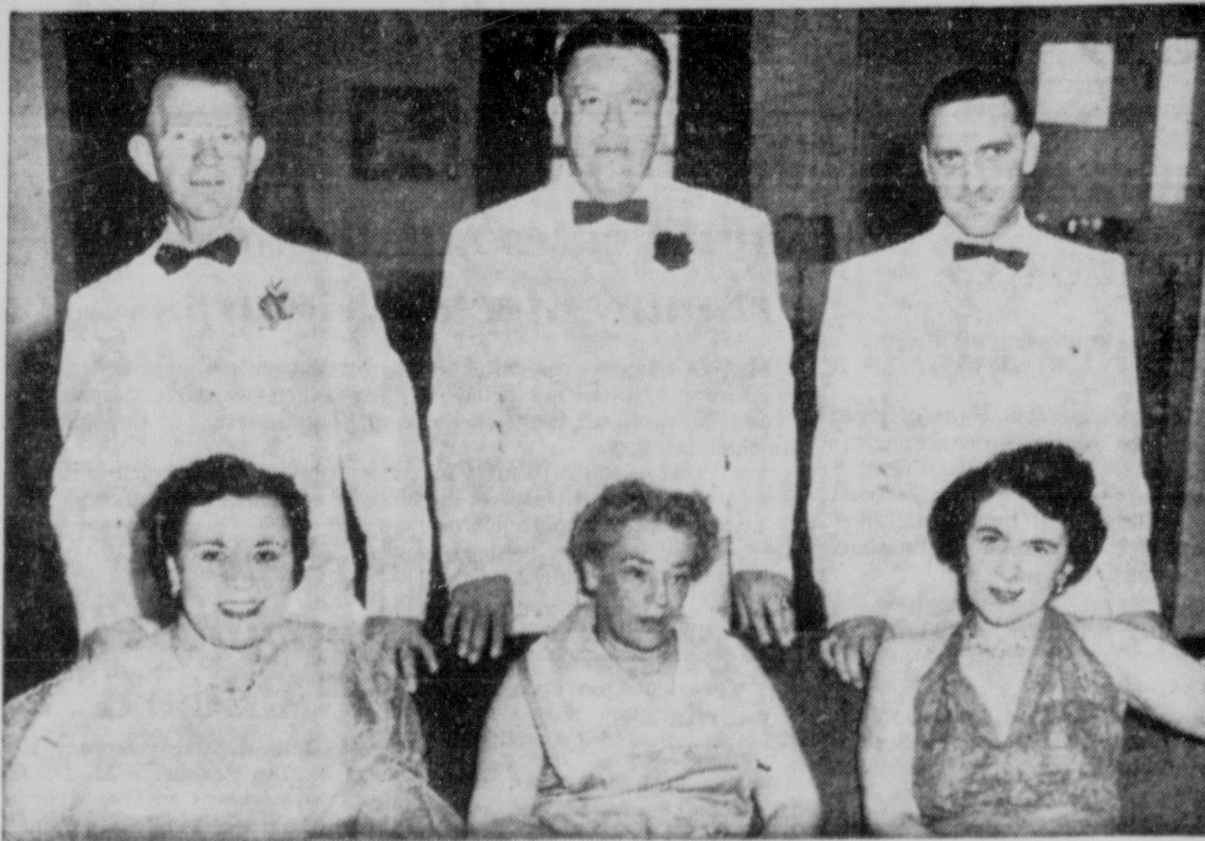

Lawrence Grimm was renamed secretary of the joint board and Robert Burdick was elected treasurer, succeeding S. Elmore Haag, whose term as a director expires in December. The following were named to offices on the individual boards: Dreher—R. J. Staph, secretary; Robert Burdick, treasurer; Greene—Edward Parson, secretary; Lawrence Grimm, treasurer; Sterling—Dr. Robert Rochfort, secretary; Louis Altmier, treasurer.

Contracts were awarded for furnishing 40 pieces of school furniture and for paper and other supplies for the coming term. The secretary was instructed to advertise for bids for coal.

Denounces Payments

Washington, (AP)—Rep. Taher (R-NY) told the House yesterday a 55 million dollar increase proposed by his appropriations committee for 1954 soil conservation payments in mainly for the benefit of "the limestone trust."

Excavators have discovered a clay tablet with a little dancing figure scratched on it in a 3,000-year-old Greek business house, and the National Geographic Society suggests the figure may be the world's first doodle.

Nazi Escapee Weds Divorcee

Atlantic City, N. J. (AP)—Harry Girth was married Tuesday to the girl who stayed by his side when he was unmasked recently as an escaped German prisoner of war.

The 27-year-old 'escapee' exchanged marriage vows with smiling, dark-haired Mrs. Evelyn (Judy) Florentine Godel, a 29-year-old divorcee, in the City Hall at nearby Ventnor.

The couple fell in love shortly after Girth fled here from a Ft. Dix POW camp in 1946.

"Newberry's First—Stroudsburg's Latest"

J.J. NEWBERRY CO. 5-10-25 STORES

Golly-gee! You made me famous! I'm in The Saturday Evening POST!

This little girl has 87 daddies

Once upon a time there were eighty-seven individual bakers who had a dream—a dream to bake the best bread man could hope to bake. They came together as the Quality Bakers. They brought with them generations of baking skill. In shining, spotless kitchens, and with the purest of ingredients, they fashioned a loaf so wonderful that they knew there had never been another loaf like it. They called it Sunbeam, and to symbolize its goodness they chose a lovely little girl. It seems only yesterday that they tied the blue ribbon in Sunny's golden curls and put her on the first loaf of Sunbeam Bread.

Out she went to the grocers of America. In just ten years you have made Sunbeam one of the greatest names in food. Today, more than fifteen million families reach for Sunbeam Bread every day.

LOOK FOR SUNBEAM—Symbol of America's Quality Bread

Thus, then, is The Sunbeam Story, of eighty-seven bakers and their dream. You are an important part of that story, because it was you who worked to make their dream come true. So, whenever you look for bread, look for Sunbeam, and you and your family will enjoy the finest, freshest bread in all the land.

Schaible's Sunbeam

ENRICHED BREAD

It's the biggest, brightest, most wonderful news in town. In this week's Saturday Evening Post blue-eyed, golden-haired Miss Sunbeam steps into the national spotlight right from the wrapper of your own favorite bread—Sunbeam.

You are an important part of The Sunbeam Story. Day after day, you have shown your appreciation for the extra freshness and goodness we bake into every loaf of Sunbeam Bread. So we think it's only fair to give credit where credit is due, and thank you—and your local Sunbeam grocer—for helping us build Sunbeam's popularity. Today Sunbeam is recognized by folks like yourself as America's finest bread the length and breadth of our land.

Read the exciting story of Sunny's success right now. And, don't miss the dramatic original in glorious full color in the May 23rd issue of The Saturday Evening Post. It's your story, too!

Three Area Farm Youths Get Checks

Three young men from this area recently received checks as part of their accomplishment in receiving American Farmers Degrees in this State.

Honored were Elwood Morrow Fox Jr. and George O. Ott Jr., both of Bangor and Thomas E. Rogers, Stroudsburg RD.

Fox received a check for $140; Rogers got a check for $125 and Ott received a check for $118.

Money for the payments comes from a fund handed down by the National FFA headquarters for use by States in any way they choose. Pennsylvania headquarters uses the money in honoring young men for their achievements in receiving the degree—highest honor awarded to FFA boys in the State.

According to national headquarters the fund is intended to "encourage these outstanding boys to improve their status in farming and their leadership in the community."

Mrs. Bradford, Formerly Of Borough, Dies

Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth McDonald Bradford, former resident of Stroudsburg, will be held today in Rockland, Me.

Mrs. Bradford was the widow of Dr. Lester B. Bradford, well-known in this area. She died in New England Deaconess Hospital in Boston Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Bradford attended East Stroudsburg State Teachers College while it was still a normal school and received a degree from that school. She taught in New Jersey public schools for many years, then graduated from a nursing school in Newark.

Interment will be made Friday morning in the Arlington National Cemetery, Arlington, Va., where her husband is buried.

A quarter of the live boy babies born in 1900 in the United States died before they were 23 years old; today a quarter of the boy babies born are not likely to die until they are more than 59 years old.

Less Than Third Of Vote Cast

Barely 28 per cent of Monroe County's registered voters are estimated to have turned out to cast a ballot at Tuesday's primary elections, one of the poorest showings of interest in a municipal primary election.

Checked on a county-wide vote level, maximum voting took place in the Republican and Democratic associate judge slots.

Not even the three-way race for county treasurer on the Republican ticket produced more votes than the no-contest GOP associate judge voting.

On the basis of unofficial returns, a total of 3,011 votes were cast for Dayton W. Frankfield and Joseph Price, unopposed for associate judge on the GOP ticket.

In the three-way associate judge race between Judge Homer Shupp, John Smith and Charles A. Keiper, with Shupp and Smith the winners, a total of 3,699 were cast.

Some 17,485 registered voters were eligible to vote yesterday.

Best the Democrats could do was a top of 3,699.

Republicans did even worse with a top of 3,011.

Democrats voted slightly more than 24 per cent of their 9,917 total registration.

Republicans voted slightly more than 20 per cent of their 7,339 total registration.

Write-in votes were splattered generously across returns from virtually every voting district. These may add somewhat to the general voting average, but not much. Their impact percentage-wise will be known only after the official count is completed next week.

John Eaton Accepts $4,800 Scholarship To Princeton

John Charles Eaton, East Stroudsburg High School senior, who was named one of the five most accomplished U. S. students by the National Honor Society, yesterday decided to accept a $4,800 Princeton University scholarship.

The Princeton offer was one of eight Eaton received in competition with students from all over the country. Total value of all eight scholarships: More than $25,000.

Eaton received scholarships from Dartmouth, Yale, Harvard, Swarthmore, Bowdoin, Haverford and the National Honor Society.

He could accept only one. From the beginning, Eaton said, his choice lay between the $5,200 Daniel Webster scholarship offered by Dartmouth and the $4,800 alumni stipend offered by Princeton.

He had until May 20 (yesterday) to make up his mind. At 4:30 p.m. he placed two long distance phone calls: one went to Dartmouth, declining the scholarship; the other notified Princeton he was accepting.

Listed by Eaton as "reasons for deciding on the New Jersey school" were its "nearness to home, the fact that it has a fine school of music and its nearness to both New York and Philadelphia."

At Princeton Eaton will probably take a strict liberal arts course, with a major in music and minors in government and

U.N. Secretary Optimistic About World Situation

Stockholm, Sweden, (AP) — Dag Hammarskjöld, secretary general of the U. N., said this week he was "cautiously optimistic" about the present world situation.

He made the statement at a news conference at the Swedish pre-law.

Following graduation from Princeton, Eaton says he would "like to go to either Yale or Harvard Law School."

He is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Harold C. Eaton, East Stroudsburg. He has been extremely active in all East Stroudsburg High School curricular and extra-curricular affairs.

Foreign Office, but did not elaborate.

He answered most questions from press men with "No comment." "I'm much like an oyster," he said from behind a huge cloud of smoke from his pipe. "I don't want to make any statement unless I feel that it has a constructive purpose and I hope the press will respect that point of view."

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Pete Carlesimo, athletic director at the University of Scranton, winced 'em and dined 'em with words at the Penn-Stroud Hotel last night, as the poker faced comedian put across a serious message in the best comedy fashion to a very appreciative audience. Carlesimo had the gathering in "stitches" from his opening word until he closed the talk on its only serious note. It was the general opinion of those gathered at the third annual All-Sports Banquet that this was certainly the best of the three held thus far in the series that is hoped will carry on forever.

Carlesimo really made a hit with the members of the varsity teams in attendance. The portly football and basketball coach at Scranton delivered one humorous remark after another, until he had both the kids and adults laughing enjoyably. At the completion of the program it was a toss up as to whether the adults or the kids had the best time. Pete is a great guy and one of the finest after-dinner speakers in the business, especially where light subjects are the order of the day.

Dr. Frank P. Maguire, commissioner of PIAA officials and a member of the National Rules Committee, served as toastmaster. This statement concerning Maguire is enough, as anyone who has ever listened to the nationally known athletic figure realizes that he is certainly tops in the speaking and toastmaster business. With Maguire and Carlesimo delivering the punch lines, it is impossible to have an unsuccessful affair. Good fun and good sportsmanship go hand-in-hand, and last night's affair was no exception.

It was good to see that a lot of men have now attended all three of the All-Sports Banquets and are anxious for a similar affair next year. The Alumni Varsity "S" Club is to be congratulated for its fine job, not only for students of Stroudsburg High but for the adults of the community. Each school, regardless of its size, should have an active alumni athletic organization as does the W. Main St. school. The Alumni Varsity "S" club is successful because its members work hard and for proof one must only know the fact that the club had $730.24 in its treasury, as of yesterday afternoon.

Marty Baldwin, local sportsman, was warmly thanked by Stroudsburg High officials for obtaining jackets for the senior athletes, on very short notice. The jackets were delivered to Baldwin the day before the banquet. Speaking of the jackets brings to mind the fact that it was nice to see Tom Waring honored by the Varsity "S" Club for the second straight year. Tom, who does so very much for athletics at Stroudsburg High, received a jacket from the Alumni Varsity "S" club, exactly like the ones delivered to the players. Tom was named an honorary member of the Alumni Varsity "S" club last year.

Waring is the type of guy that always wants to help, regardless of the amount of work done previously. It was announced by T. Manning "Cap" Curtis last night that Waring had made it known that he would award $100 to the top student-athlete at Stroudsburg High this year, regardless of the individual's grade or course. The prize will be $100, which is to be used by the student-athlete to further his education. Occurrence of this type characterizes Waring and serve to demonstrate why the Shawnee resident is everybody's friend.

Praise and thanks were handed out freely to all, proving that spirit was at its best. Dr. John P. Lim was given an ovation as thanks for his medical work with the Stroudsburg High athletes during the past year. Major Jay Levan, present air corps officer and former athlete at Stroudsburg High, was on hand for the affair, as was virtually every true sports loving individual in the borough of Stroudsburg or connected with Stroudsburg High. The fact that everyone honestly enjoyed the program was the post-dinner remarks.

Ed Williams, 1952-1953 president, and Jim Somers, secretary-treasurer for the same length of time, are to be congratulated for a job well done, and their successors are presented with best wishes for a successful future by this column. The Alumni Varsity "S" Club has reached its present point of success only because of the graduates of the W. Main St. school dig "in and down" to make the organization the best of its kind, regardless of the time and place.

There's always something about seeing good athletes coming to the end of their high school road, but those senior athletes of Stroudsburg High certainly were able to finish up in a blaze of glory, thanks to the unflinching efforts of the Alumni Varsity "S" organization. Most athletes are thrilled with receiving only a letter, but the senior athletes of the W. Main St. school have jackets to add to the thrill of receiving an award. Athletic memories are never forgotten and athletic time is never wasted.

Pocono A. C. Sinks Tatamy On Shires' Two Homers

Foley Limits Losing Club To Three Hits

Tatamy — Pocono A. C. received a terrific three-hit pitching job from Tom Foley and some solid home run hitting by Bill Shires last night and the combination carried the Monroe County entry in the Blue Mountain League to a 5-0 victory over Tatamy, here on the losing contingent's home field.

Shires blasted a pair of right field homers that enabled the home club to go into second place in the standings.

Pocono A. C. opened the scoring with a single run in the first frame. With two out, Bob Mellman singled and Shires sent Mellman to third with another single. Lyle Krall rammed a single down the third base line to admit Krall with the initial run. Foley fled out to end the inning.

Shires banged his first home run over the right field fence in the fifth frame.

Three Tallies

The visiting contingent put the contest on ice with three more tallies in the last round of a seven-inning game. Jack Newell opened the frame with a single and went to second on a balk by Stan Dech, the losing hurler. Harold Freeman sacrificed Newell to third and Mellman walked. Shires then crashed his second homer of the game to end the scoring.

Foley was never in danger of losing his shutout, as he pitched tight baseball throughout the contest.

Pocono A. C. plays at Portland on Sunday, with the game slated to get under way at 2:30 p. m.

A's Down Chisox, 2-1

Philadelphia, (AP) — Joe Astroth singled home Cass Michaels from third with two out in the ninth last night to give the Philadelphia Athletics their second straight 2-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox in a pitching duel between southpaws Morris Martin of the A's and Billy Pierce.

Astroth's game-winning single came after Pierce dug his own grave by walking Gus Zernial, Michaels and Ed McGhee. Zernial was doubled off first when Dave Philley popped up to Bob Wilson while attempting a bunt. But after passes to Michaels and McGhee, Pierce wild-pitched Michaels to third and then Astroth delivered.

The Athletics nicked Pierce for a tally in the second on a pass to Philley, and singles by Michaels and McGhee.

But the White Sox got the run back in the fourth when Jim Rivera singled home Minnie Minoso. Minoso had doubled, the only extra-base hit in the game.

Stem Speaks At Cage Banquet

Pocono Summit — Basketball teams of Tolyhanna Township and Pocono High schools were honored at a "Father and Son" Banquet held here at Johnnie's Inn by the Pocono Lions Club last night.

Walter Stem, prominent umpire in the locality and a member of the East Stroudsburg High school faculty, spoke to the group.

Stem's theme was, "It matters not who won or lost, but how you played the game."

Fried chicken was the main course.

Australian Olympic Planner Quits Position

Melbourne, (AP) — The chief Australian planner for the 1956 Olympic games resigned last night — an act which was called a "national tragedy" by Melbourne's acting lord mayor.

"There was nothing left me but to resign," said Arthur W. Coles, who turned in his post as chairman of the Olympic Games Control Committee. "My position was untenable."

Coles gave up his job when the

Butz Leads Pocono To Victory, 15-6

Tannersville — Larry Butz's big bat firmly entrenched Pocono High in second place in the Monroe County League yesterday, as the home team won over Coolbaugh.

Pocono A. C. plays at Portland on Sunday, with the game slated to get under way at 2:30 p. m.

High, 15-6. Butz blasted out a home run, triple and double in four trips to the plate and scored four times during the course of the ball game.

Coolbaugh was unable to solve the pitching style of Bob Hallet with any degree of success, as the youthful right hander was in complete control of the game after the first inning, in which Pocono scored 10 runs.

Pocono unleashed a 10-hit attack against three Coolbaugh high pitchers and took advantage of six errors by the visiting club to win with ease. Pocono's four misuses in the field also aided Coolbaugh in scoring its six runs.

The home team scored in all but one inning in which it went to bats.

Senators Clip Indians, 8-3

Washington, (AP) — Mickey Vernon led a 16-hit Washington attack with a double and three singles last night as the Senators defeated Cleveland, 8-3, "Spec" Shea, who left the game after seven innings because of a stiff shoulder, held the Indians to two of their seven hits to post his third win without a loss.

The Senators clipped Bob Feller, the loser, for two runs in the second inning on Pete Runnels' single. Jim Busby's double and singles by Ed Fitzgerald and Shea.

Six Runs

Washington spurred for six runs in the seventh inning against Bob Hooper and Steve Gromek on two walks, four singles and doubles by Jackie Jensen and Busby.

Carlesimo Entertains Crowd At Third All-Sports Banquet

Peter A. Carlesimo, athletic director at the University of Scranton, entertained all those attending the third annual All-Sports Banquet at the Penn-Stroud Hotel last night with his humorous remarks in the capacity of guest speaker. The affair was sponsored by the Alumni Varsity "S" Club.

Carlesimo built virtually all of his address on humorous remarks, but finished up with some serious advice to athletes and high school students in general.

Dr. Frank P. Maguire, director of PIAA officials and a member of the National Rules Committee, served as toastmaster and entertained the crowd in his usual outstanding style.

T. Manning "Cap" Curtis, athletic director at Stroudsburg High, spoke briefly. Curtis praised the school's coaching staff and announced that the Jerome Slutter Medal, presented each year to the most outstanding athlete, would be awarded in the future by the Alumni Varsity "S" Club.

Curtis also announced that Tom Waring, well known follower of athletics in the area, will present $100 to the individual with the best student-athlete rating at Stroudsburg High. The money will be used to further the boy's education. The prize doesn't necessarily have to go to a senior student.

Attorney Edward L. Williams, club president, introduced Maguire to start the entertainment. Williams also directed the business session.

James A. Somers, secretary-treasurer of the organization, delivered a financial report. Coaches Jerry Stulgaitis and Sam Russell spoke briefly and gave out the various individual awards.

Several notables were introduced and individuals thanked for service to Stroudsburg athletic teams in the past year.

Each member of the football, basketball and baseball teams, earning letters, received their awards last night. Each of the seniors were also presented with jackets, as was Waring, for the latter's outstanding contribution to sports at Stroudsburg High.

Warren "Mac" Loney, chairman of the nomination committee, named Lester "Pug" Boushell, president; Al Adelman, vice president; and Sam Everett, secretary-treasurer, as officers for next year. The nominees were elected unanimously by the group in attendance.

A turkey dinner was served to some 75 people in attendance.

Cardinals Blast Pirates, 11-6

St. Louis, (AP) — "Red" Schoendienst, with a two-run homer and a three-run double among his four hits, led a 17-hit St. Louis Cardinals attack tonight as the Redbirds defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 11-6. It was a free-hitting game in which the Reds got 14 safeties, including a pair of run-scoring doubles by Ralph Kiner.

Switch - Hitter

Schoendienst, a switch-hitter, accounted for six of the first eight Cardinals runs, all scored within the first three innings.

Pittsburgh 001 203 000 6 14 0
St. Louis 233 010 208 11 17 2

It was also decided at the meeting to hold a league picnic, probably sometime in June. Kunkletown, last year's title holder, will play an All-Star team chosen from the league at that time. Clarence Smith, Kunkletown manager, is chairman of the picnic committee.

Giants Run Wild Against Cubs, 16-6

Chicago, (AP) — The New York Giants lowered a 21-hit boom, a 39 total base explosion, on the hapless Chicago Cubs for a 16-6 payoff before a Ladies' Day turnout of 13,555 persons yesterday.

Monte Irvin, Captain Al Dar, and Davey Williams poled home runs. The New Yorkers also had three triples and as many doubles.

Rodeo

The Giants led in a wild 8-6 marathon when they broke up the party with an eight run eighth inning.

Yankees Rally To Pull Game Out Of Fire Against Tigers

New York, (AP) — Gene Woodling's ninth inning single with the bases loaded and score tied climaxed a wild afternoon of "Casey" Stengel's lineup juggling with a 9-8 New York Yankee victory yesterday over the Detroit Tigers.

Stengel used 21 men, finally resorting to Allie Reynolds to pull the game out in a relief role. For his one-inning bull pen job, Reynolds earned his fourth win.

Woodling's winning hit followed an error by Jerry Priddy, a sacrifice bunt and two walks. There was one out when the Yankee left-fielder lined a Ray Herbert pitch over short to score Billy Martin with the tie-breaker. Martin had a life on Priddy's.

The New Yorkers also had three wild throw and Mickey Mantle and "Hank" Bauer had walked.

Scoreless Ninth

Reynolds, sixth Yankee pitcher, pitched a scoreless ninth. He now has hurled 16 scoreless innings in his last 10 relief appearances. Hal Newhouser started for the Tigers and was given a 7-2 bulge, as Detroit tallied twice in the first and kayoed Eddie Lopat with five runs in the fifth. Newhouser, who celebrated his 32nd birthday yesterday, was not quite up to it, however.

Joe Collins' two-run homer in the sixth and hits by Woodling and pinch hitter Johnny Sain in the eighth with Yogi Berra first on a force play in between, knotted the count at 8-8.

The victory put the Yankees three full games in front of the second place Boston Red Sox. The New York contingent has now won 20 and lost nine games, while Boston's mark is 17 victories and a dozen setbacks.

IAM Triumphs Over Shaffer's Inn Foe, 7-4

IAM increased its lead over the pack in the Monroe County Softball League last night with a 7-4 victory over Shaffer's Inn, at the East Stroudsburg Junior High school field.

The win was the fifth of the season for IAM, without a setback.

Another game between Tucker's Chevrolet and Union Printers was postponed because of the All-Sports Banquet held at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

In winning IAM had to fight off a spirited finish by Shaffer's Inn, as the losing contingent came up with three runs in the seventh inning.

IAM did its damage in the middle frames.

Two games are also on the agenda today, both scheduled to get underway at 6:15 p.m. Al Rescher's Diner battles the Eagles, at East Stroudsburg High school, while Newman's Dress Shop battles Jack's Market at Stroudsburg Playground.

Blast Hits Ivy League

New York (AP)—Although there is no likelihood of immediate action, there were indications yesterday that the Harvard Crimson had kindled a smoky bonfire with its statement that presidents of the Ivy group colleges were dissatisfied with the National Collegiate Athletic Association and might sever all connections with that body.

Reds Slam Simmons To Take Measure Of Phillies, 14-5

Cincinnati (AP)—Cincinnati used the great Curt Simmons as if he were a practice pitcher yesterday to drive him off the mound and defeat Philadelphia, 14 to 5.

Simmons, who entered the game with six victories, one defeat and a record having put out the last 27 batters to face him, had little on his southpaw offerings, and went out after two were retired in the fourth inning.

Dodgers Earn Verdict Over Milwaukee, 7-2

Milwaukee (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers combined 10 hits with six stolen bases and Billy Loes' six hit pitching yesterday to crush the Milwaukee Braves, 7-2.

A stunned crowd of 23,450, which boosted the Braves' home attendance for 13 playing dates to 302,667, watched their favorites drop their first series in the County Stadium this year. The Dodgers won the opener Tuesday night, 4-1. Yesterday's attendance gave the Braves 21,389 more fans than watched them perform all last season in Boston.

Jackie Robinson's home run into the third row of the leftfield bleachers got the Dodgers underway. The blast scored "Pee Wee" Reese, who had walked.

Loes rapped in the third Dodger run himself with a single over second base in the next inning, after George Shuba had opened with a double.

Vern Bickford departed with one out in the third after Reese and Duke Snider walked and Roy Campanella lashed a single to center, both runners scoring when Billy Bruton fumbled the pickup. Dave Jolly relieved him and Campanella scored from second on Bill Cox's single to center after advancing on an infield out.

The final Brooklyn run came in the fourth when Junior Gilliam singled to lead off, stole second and came all the way home on Snider's single.

Eddie Mathews batted in both Braves runs in the fourth with a triple to centerfield after Bruton and Johnny Logan had walked. Brooklyn—213 100 000—7 10 1 Milwaukee—000 200 000—2 6 0

Kiner Rumored On Way To Cubs

Chicago (AP)—Ralph Kiner, the National League's home run champion for seven straight years, will leave the Pittsburgh Pirates for the Chicago Cubs before June 15, the Chicago Daily Sun-Times said yesterday.

The newspaper, keeping the long-rumored Kiner deal boiling, said "it's almost certain" that Kiner will join the Cubs. Will Matthews, the Cubs' player personnel director, has had a long standing offer of $200,000 cash to the Pirates for the 30-year-old slugger.

Red Sox Edge Browns In Marathon, 3-2

Boston (AP)—Second-string catcher Del Wilber's third home run in five pinch-hitting tries, with two out in the 14th inning, yesterday enabled the Boston Red Sox to sweep a two-game series from the St. Louis Browns, 3-2.

Reliever Don Larsen took over for Virgil Trucks at the start of the seventh inning and gave up but three hits before Wilber belted a 3-1 pitch into the leftfield screen to end the league's longest 1953 game.

The Red Sox scored twice in the third inning when Trucks committed two throwing errors. Milt Bolling doubled, Marv Grissom, first of the three Boston flingers, sacrificed and Dick Gernert singled. Trucks threw wide to first after fielding Grissom's bunt and then was off the line trying to nail Bolling at the plate after Jim Persall grounded to him.

The Browns bunched four of their 11 hits for two runs that tied the score in the seventh.

Track Causes Delay

Wheeling, W. Va., (AP)—Track conditions delayed for one hour the start of the eight-race program at Wheeling Downs yesterday. Jockeys balked at riding the first race scheduled to start at 2:15 p. m. for the second straight day, reportedly over muddy track.

Musicians Entertain Kiwanians

A post-Music Week program was presented by students of the Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High Schools at the Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club meeting in the Penn Stroud Hotel yesterday afternoon. Numa J. Snyder and Dr. Earl Willhoite were co-chairmen of the program.

Miss Beverly Rivera, "Miss Hawaii 1952" was welcomed to the club and presented a token of appreciation by Parke W. Kunkle, Kiwanis president. Miss Rivera modeled at the fashion show sponsored by the club at State Teachers College last night.

In presenting the music program, Dr. Willhoite paid high tribute to the music teachers of the Stroudsburgs for the high standards maintained, both musically and educationally.

Dick VanWhy, of East Stroudsburg High, was heard in two numbers, "I Believe" and "Just a Little Feller," with Miss Betty-Jo Goodall, accompanist.

The balance of the program was presented by Stroudsburg High School students, with Miss Ruth Fetherman accompanist.

Pete Groner was heard in a trombone solo, "Atlantic Zephyrs," and Floyd Friskie in a tuba number, "Behemoth."

The Documettes concluded the program with two selections, "Night Has a Thousand Eyes" and "Peter Piper."

The group is composed of the following: Pat Bartholomew, Sandra Bolch, Maxine Mumbauer, Marlene Allegar, Ann Nitrauer, Eileen Kostenbader, Clara Lou Hari, Jackie James, Martha Yost and Marolyn Learn.

Thomas Knepp, conductor of the Little Orchestra Society, invited the club to attend the concert of the group at Stroudsburg High School auditorium Friday night.

He, too, complimented the instructors of the music in the schools of the area, many of whom are members of the orchestra. There are 21 adults and an equal number of young people enrolled, he said.

Marty Baldwin called attention to the high standing of Johnny Eaton in high school circles of the country, having attained a high average of 99.056 for second place, the first place high having been 99.067. Johnny has acted as Kiwanis club pianist during the summer months the past two years.

Robert O. Schell Jr. represented the Stroudsburg club at the 35th anniversary celebration of the Allentown Club last Thursday.
